

Your Legacy

Imagine entering a room where no body could see you but you could see them. Around 100 to 1000 people were all taking turns speaking about you as if you had passed away.

What would you want them to say about you?

What would your friends say?

Your Family?

Your partner?

Your children?

People who's lives you had impacted...

People who know of you but had never met you... What would want them to say about you.

What is the 3 things they commonly used to describe you as and what would you want to remembered for...

Take the time to go through each group and write down what you want Your Legacy to Say ABOUT You.

Greatness Is Not Given.

It is earned - day by day - through blood sweat and tears when nobody else is watching..
